STANDSTILL!

LOCKDOWN DIARIES

Dear Parents
We are here again with yet another edition. The key to life is accepting challenges and ILS has trampled all advertises and taken a step further towards digital learning. This road was not easy to navigate but WE at ILS not only dare to dream but put action behind our dreams. Stay Home, Stay Safe - Remember one cannot swim to new horizons until he has the courage to lose sight of the shore.

WE MISS YOU TOO!

AN UNEXPECTED CHANGE

I wake up in a new world these days
listening to the birds chirping in the fresh new air
the roads are empty, the houses are filled
I thought this year I will be thrilled
But everything came out to be stilled.

We have all heard about past epidemic mystery little did we know, we would become a part of this history.

Well something has happened out of the blue about which no one could have any clue

I have started to miss my school.

LOCK DOWN ACTIVITIES

Diya/Maharaja 21-0

Experiences During Lockdown

This pandemic has mostly affected our education. Due to this pandemic, we are not able to go to school and learn physically from teachers. Even though we are getting virtual and assignments we are still not able to learn properly. In the online classes we are not able to ask questions from the teacher again to fully learn it. We are not able to give feedback to the teacher. It is not like that.

Learning is not in school anymore from teachers but also online with various technologies and face-to-face by interaction with teachers. It is about learning to be a good citizen and developing social skills. That is why it's more important to stay connected with the school by any means necessary.

Teachers' Concerns are better prepared to teach in digital learning strategies. We have a lot of efforts and challenges for our school parents and teachers. But parents of mostly income and poor countries. The education is very mixed and if we do not use technology we will miss out of opportunities but need an immediate intervention both. Many children don't have books, internet connectivity and laptop or even appropriate parents. This education creates a suspicion toward our parents especially in villages. The electricity and internet connectivity is not that strong to study digitally.

#Pandemic World# Social Distancing#

In this world where there is lockdown everywhere and we can't move outside and we are eager to meet our buddies... no one can stop us... A BIG THANK YOU to the world of internet... whose connecting us so easily... We explore e-learning for our Civics Activity where we discussed our hobbies and interest with each other... But when we happen to call we finish our discussions fast and it's OUR TIME.. OUR CHIT CHAT TIME... LEG PULLING TIME... RECALLING THE DAYS WE SPEND TOGETHER, AND WISHING OUR SCHOOL TO REOPEN AS EARLY AS POSSIBLE SO THAT WE CAN MEET EACH OTHER... MISSING OUR TEACHERS AND FRIENDS A LOT...

CORONA DIARIES

Greeting to one and all,

I am Sruspethika Post studying in 10th grade, for a board class I am having a lot to study but I feel like bringing a change in my schedule and motivate myself to engage in other activities too. I began with making a vision board which motivates me to stay focused all day long. After finishing my assignments, I either cook savory recipes or bake sweet cakes or brownies. I have learnt so many recipes during this lockdown I cannot wait to share it with my friends and relatives. I know sitting at home with the same people all day may get monotonous, but me books can be your best friend. I picked up so many books online on my Kindle and gave them a read and I did not know how time passed.

When I felt like painting, I saw my big white wall and I noticed a big canvas. I painted a few pictures and a tree to bring out the positivity in the room. I have enrolled myself in a three-day course which has helped me in bringing out the creative side in me. I have decided to take this lockdown as a challenge, learn new languages, recipes and dances. I have taken this as an opportunity to stay connected with myself, my family and my friends!

This was it about my lockdown diaries. I hope I was able to motivate you all to get up and do anything new.

Thank you

WRITE UP ON THE DURING COVID

We humans had never experienced anything like this before as we were ready for the kind of situation. As we all know we are not able to measure our efforts due to the world wide covid-19 pandemic. We all were also wanting to meet our teachers and principals.

We all can protect and save ourselves by some instructions. The most important is to wash our hands and stay home. We should also at least maintain 1 meter distance between ourselves and others. Also avoid touching eyes, nose and mouth because if we touch them the virus can enter and reach our lungs. It will form a layer in our lungs and we will not be able to breath.

As we find ourselves bored during lockdown we can perform several activities to keep ourselves entertained like dancing, singing, cooking and playing video or chess etc.

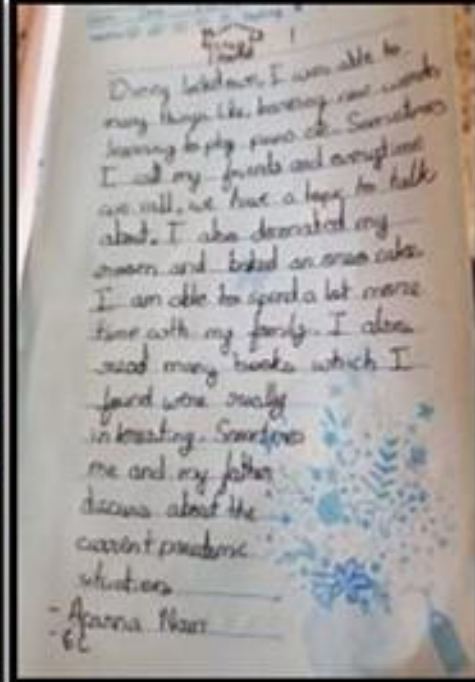

The most important is about the online classes. We all are loving the way our teachers are working hard for us preparing worksheets and making videos day and night. We all wish our teachers, principal and other staff to stay safe. We all are also very anxious for the reopening of our schools.

Activities in the Lockdown

COVID-19 has made a big change in the big world with a peaceful place. It's a real world with no lockdown. We could do because we have to stay in our home. In the lockdown I don't go to school. I help my mother with her work like cleaning the bed, sweeping the floor, organizing my school bag and my books. I do half of the house work. I do my own and painting. I hope someone will be more to this lockdown and COVID-19.

Megha Gopikuttan-Lockdown Interview

I miss school a lot, all my friends, teachers, nannies and most specially my daily routine going to school. After the lockdown started I felt I would be able to manage it all but, after a week or so, I began missing everything I could do before the lockdown.

My father always tells me to make the most of what I have and take everything positively. And that's what I have been doing. Time is precious and so we don't want to waste it. I began by making over my room to make it look good by setting up an ambience that would inspire me to study. Then I planned a time table that I would have to follow every day. It includes about 5 to 6 hours of studying and the rest of the time to myself. As days are passing by I keep following the timetable and make sure that I store all the work given by the school on a daily basis date-wise. I have also been exploring myself in all the free time I have been getting. I help in household chores like sweeping, ironing and washing the dishes. I also learn how to cook many delicious delicacies from my father by providing small helps in the kitchen while he would be cooking. I learnt how to maintain and take care of indoor plants. I also have been singing many different songs on an app called SMULE and have been posting those videos on my YouTube channel named "Megha Gopikuttan". Since I know that teaching makes one's concepts better I have been spending at least 1 hour a day to help teach my cousin brother in India. I also have family fun time while going for a walk with my parents as early as 5 in the morning and also for an hour in the evenings. We also spend time playing badminton. I also spend little of my free time on watching movies with family at night after having dinner.

The Covid-19 pandemic has shut us in our homes. But to fight any barrier we must overcome it with positivity and the only way to do so is to make the most use of these days to rediscover ourselves and maybe we may find ourselves really good at something we never even thought of.

SPREADING SMILES

Watch these amazing kids here:

https://drive.google.com/open?id=1np0wOghU7FoU76_qHShZimVd_GcWYW3C

Thank You Dear Parents

ILS is in ecstasy on receiving the unleashed experiences and views of parents sharing their experiences on how they are coping with the present situation.

Parents have showcased their support and their words of gratitude have incentivized us to go extra miles to keep the curriculum of children and their education least affected in this turbulent situation. This appreciation bestowed on teachers have left an imprint in their minds which will motivate and inspire them to enhance the teaching – learning process.

The students do find the Digital learning interesting but state that it is still a gap away from original school learning where there is interaction and an environment that is stimulating. Positivity and optimism have paved path and parents are availing this time to sensitize their wards to values that govern humanity.

So, here we are ready to create a world of love. We need to go to the centre of our heart and radiate positive vibration, look at our life with different eyes and stop a moment to breathe endearment.

Thank You!

STAY SAFE; STAY HEALTHY!
